FOREWORD

I feel great pleasure in presenting the third volume of the Descriptive Catalogue of Sanskrit manuscripts preserved in the valuable Manuscript Library (containing nearly 15000 mss.) of the Ganganatha Jha Kendriya Sanskrit Vidyapeetha (formerly Ganganatha Jha Research Institute), Allahabad The work is in continuation of the previous scheme of Government of India i. e., to prepare index of manuscripts with their full details, preserved in different institutions. The work was first started under the supervision and editorship of late Mm. Umesh Mishra, the then Hon. Secretary of this Vidyapeetha. The first volume in two parts, published in 1967, contained 4593 manuscripts and the second volume in two parts, published in 1973 included 4998 manuscripts. The present volume, like the previous two volumes is prepared by V. Hanumanthachar, the Curator of the Manuscript Library of this Vidyapeeth (now retired) and Shri Jeeveshwar Jha, the Assistant Curator.

In the present volume, 2187 manuscripts are catalogued according to the previous plan, approved by the Government of India, followed in the previous volumes. It is divided into 27 major sections of the vast Sanskrit Literature, from Vedic to the Classical Sanskrit, including texts dealing with Tantra, stotra, Jyotiṣa, Āyurveda, Bhakti etc. manuscripts are arranged and described with serial number, accession number, title of the work, author, commentator, substance, script, size, folios, lines per page, letters per line, extent, present condition and other necessary particulars. In the Appendix "A", the beginning, the end and the colophon of some of the selected manuscripts have been given. Cross references to mss. are also made to provide help to the scholars.

The present volume has its own importance in that, it gives particulars about the important mss. belonging to period as early as the 17th Century A. D. The manuscripts are in various scripts but mostly they are in Maithili. A large collection of manuscripts are still uncatalogued which will be included in the next volume in near future.

Finally, I acknowledge with due appreciation, the devoted service of Shri V. Hanumanthachar, the Curator and Shri Jeeveshwar Jha, the Asstt. Curator in the compilation of this catalogue. I also thank the Allahabad Block Works Pvt. Ltd. for the neat and prompt execution of this volume.

INTRODUCTION

This is the third volume of the Descriptive Catalogue of Sanskrit manuscripts preserved in the Ganganatha Jha Kendriya Sanskrit Vidyapeetha, Allahabad, formerly Ganganatha Jha Research Institute. It is prepared under the same scheme launched by the Ministry of Education, Government of India for the publication of descriptive catalogue of manuscripts in private institutions and on the same model as the first two valumes. This volume also contains titles and description of manuscripts covering almost every branch of Sanskrit Literature beginning with Vedic Samhita. The serial numbers of manuscripts included in this volume are in contiuation of the numbers in the second volume.

When I took up the compilation of the first volume about twelve years back the institute had only 4593 manuscripts and when that volume was printed in 1967 fresh manuscripts were acquired in separate batches at different times. 4998 manuscripts were described in the second volume on the same lines as in the first volume. In the present volume 2187 manuscripts bearing on different subjects are noticed. Most of these manuscripts are not available in print and those which are known to have been printed are mentioned as such in column 11. Three appendixes are added at the end. In appendix A beginning, ending and colophon of some interesting manuscripts are given. Appendix B is the alphabetical index of all the manuscripts described in this volume and appendix C is the index of authors. Mention is made below of some noteworthy manuscripts under different subjects described in this volume.

There is no doubt that there are still many valuable manuscripts with the families of traditional pandits which have not come to light. This Vidyapeetha will endeavour to collect whatever manuscripts are available from every possible source and publish catalogues as a non-stop project.

I thank Sri Jeeveshwar Jha, Asstt. Curator for his collaboration with me in bringing out this volume.

My thanks are due to the Allahabad Block Works Private Ltd. for the fine get up and clean printing of this catalogue.

*9729. Devīmāhātmyavṛttiḥ by Govindarāmasiddhāntavāgīśa

Devīmāhātmya or Saptaśatī forming a portion of Mārkaṇḍeyapurāṇa describing the greatness of Goddess Devī is a very popular wrok widely read by those who worships Goddess Śakti. The present work is a rare commentary on Devīmāhātmya by Govindarāma Siddhāntavāgīśa. From the concluding verses of the Commentary, it is understood that he wrote it in the śaka year 1624. The author says that he wrote this commentary, although several others had written commentaries on the same work, in order to bring out some special features which would be interesting to scholars. Commentaries on (1) Mahimnaḥstava, called Kaumudī or Mahimnaḥstavaprakāśikā, (2) Ānandalaharī called Dhīratoṣiṇī and (3) Kumārasaṁbhava called Dhīrarañjanikā are attributed to this author.

Bhakti or devotion to God is considered to be the only means of getting libaration from mortal existance in this world. According to prahlada Bhakti is of nine varieties of which Pūjā is one. This short work deals with Pūjā to lord Viṣṇu in all its aspects. The work is incomplete.
