PREFACE.

The present work had its origin in the scheme sanctioned by the Government of India in November 1868 for the discovery and preservation of the records of Ancient Sanskrit Literature in India. In the distribution of the funds granted for carrying out that plan, Mysore was associated in one circle with Madras; and the latter Government in November 1870 placed the services of Dr. Burnell at the disposal of the Chief Commissioner of Mysore for the examination of Sanskrit manuscripts, but nothing seems to have been done under this arrangement.

Meanwhile a catalogue, containing 608 numbers, of the Sanskrit works in the Sarasvatī Bhandāram Library of His Highness the Maharaja of Mysore had been compiled under the direction of Colonel G. B. Mangleson, c. s. i., Guardian to the Maharaja, which was forwarded in October 1869 by the Chief Commissioner, Mr. L. Bowring, c. s. i., to the Government of India, who sent it through the Bombay Government to Dr. Kielhorn at Poona for report. This gentleman farther in January 1874 sent up a supplementary catalogue of Sanskrit manuscripts in the same Library, comprising 270 works, some of them being re-catalogued from the former list. Dr. G. Oppert, also, who published one volume of the Madras catalogue in 1880, included in it 139 works belonging to the Āsthāna Paṇḍit at Mysore.

In February 1878 the Government of India, on reviewing what had been done to give effect to the scheme of 1868, called for the opinion of the Local Governments as to the desirability of redistributing the work, and of Mysore and Coorg being attached to the Madras circle. This resulted in my appointment in July 1880 to institute the necessary inquiries and compile a catalogue of Sanskrit manuscripts existing in Mysore and Coorg. Printed forms were at once circulated to be filled up for this purpose, but all were not received back till last Christmas.

The information here embodied has been chiefly obtained through the local authorities, as the work had to be done in conjunction with my other duties, and during part of the time I was absent at Calcutta on special duty as Secretary to the Education Commission. A personal examination of the manuscripts therefore, with the view of supplying further details in regard to their age, &c., or correcting inaccuracies which could not otherwise be determined, was not possible ; but the particulars given in the catalogue will it is hoped prove of service to Sanskrit scholars as a guide to the old literature here extant. The lists are exclusive of those previously published, referred to above, some of the works in which were obtained by me on loan for Dr. Eggeling at Edinburgh.

Incidentally the present investigation has yielded a rich harvest in bringing to light the interesting and unknown body of Jaina literature belonging to the earlier period of the Kannaḍa (so-called Canarese) language. These results have been communicated to the Royal Asiatic Society of Great Britain and Ireland.

It only remains to express my thanks to the Deputy Commissioners of Districts for the interest they have taken in procuring the lists of manuscripts, and to K. Rama Rao, appointed to assist in preparing the catalogue.

BANGALORE,
July 1882.

LEWIS RICE.
